Indigenous in Music with Larry K

A Note from Larry K.

I would like to personally extend an invitation to the _____, to be an important part of our syndicated radio program. I am very happy to announce we are now heard daily on our Flagship station Native Voice One, the Native American Radio Network and distributed on three radio networks and heard on over 35 stations and in six major markets. A great opportunity for the _____ to reach the Native American, Mexican, Aboriginal, Latin American communities and businesses here in the US and let them know what you do.

MISSION: The Indigenous in Music Radio Show mission is to develop, organize, promote and administer a comprehensive, coordinated music program. Providing music from our Indigenous musicians, enriching education through music, and entertainment for the general public.

WHO: Indigenous in Music with Larry K has been broadcasting to the public interest since 2010. Today listeners rely on Indigenous in Music to deliver their weekly dose of Indigenous music and interviews.

WHAT: Every week host Larry K from the Ho Chunk Nation brings you two (2) hours of Indigenous sounds, recorded live from our Two Buffalo Studios in Sarasota, Florida. Enjoy interviews and a mix of new music from our Indigenous musicians from around the Western Hemisphere, a variety of rock, pop, country rock, flute, house and electronica.

WHERE: Our show is recorded at the Two Buffalo Studios in Sarasota, FL and is heard around the USA and Canada.

WHY: The “Indigenous in Music with Larry K” radio show was developed to support indigenous musicians. After we did our research, we discovered that our indigenous musicians were not getting the exposure needed to get into the mainstream music scene. Host Larry K, from the Ho Chunk Nation started the Indigenous in Music Radio Show.

Both a host and producer, Larry values the diversity of cultural expression and traditions, fosters the preservation and advancement of diverse musical genres, creates a sense of welcoming and belonging, enhances the enjoyment of life, and celebrates community with great programming.

WHEN: To develop and market our show to radio stations around the world. We will provide music and interviews to the general public. We will promote our indigenous musicians and entertainers.

DISTRIBUTION

Indigenous in Music is heard twice daily on our flagship station Native Voice One (NV1), the Native American Radio Network, our program is heard on top-market urban radio stations and on reservation/village based stations throughout the United States and Canada. FAQ

What's the difference between commercial radio and public radio?

Public radio differs from commercial radio in several ways:

Public radio is nonprofit

Public radio produces and distributes primarily educational cultural and informational programs

Public radio may accept gifts, grants, donations and contributions for the production, acquisition and broadcast of those programs

What's the difference between underwriting announcements and commercials?

Underwriting is a way of supporting public radio and introducing your business to our listeners. More than just a commercial announcement, underwriting makes it clear that programming would not exist without the sponsor's support - something the audience notices and appreciates.

Underwriting announcements (15 seconds in length) have to maintain a “non-commercial” feel and may include a business name, a brief description of the business or service and location/contact information.

Do we need to send you pre-recorded underwriting spots?

No, we produce all spots in our studios with a professional on-air talent. You may submit your own copy - we put it all together for you at no charge.

What kind of language can we use in our announcement?

Established slogans or logograms that identify the underwriter, but are not overtly promotional, and which do not refer to a specific product or service.

Factual, value-neutral descriptions of a sponsor or its products or services.

Internet addresses and dates for specific events, performances or appearances.

What kind of Language is not allowed?

Any language that is promotional in nature.

Language that is qualitative or comparative, or statements based directly or indirectly on someone's opinion.

Language that could be perceived as an linM advocacy position.

A call to action to consume a product or service, or inducement to buy, sell, rent or lease.

Pricing information or indication of associated savings or value.

Can we use more than one messaging campaign for our broadcast flight?

Certainly. You may submit entirely different pieces of copy that can be rotated over the course of your broadcast flight in order to convey different messages.

What time does linM play?

linM is scheduled throughout the week at different times on over 35 different stations, throughout the United States and Canada.

MUSIC

LARRY K

Ho-Chunk Larry K takes his show "Indigenous in Music" into international syndication on Native Voice One (NV1) The Native American Radio Network

Larry Knudsen (originally from Ho-Chunk Nation of Wisconsin, USA) remembers being 14 years old and listening to WDGY 1130 AM in Minneapolis, Minnesota. He was captivated by the DJs and inspired by what he heard. He would call in to request songs, and he even won a few prizes. Two turntables later, "Larry K" was born!

In 2006, Knudsen started doing interviews, album reviews and promoting Minneapolis Musicians like Blue Dog, Sarah Hindsley, Cochise Anderson, Buggin Malone, Red Pony Band, The Pipestone Band and Marc Lemere. Knudsen knew these musicians weren't getting any airplay and realized something had to be done.

'Indigenous in Music' was launched in 2010 in Sarasota, Florida, on WSLR 96.5. Arlene Sweeting, the station manager at the time, recognized that Knudsen's show was unlike any other broadcast on the radio and was good enough to put up for syndication.

During his reign at WSLR, Knudsen decided it was time to take his show to the next level. In 2015 he left WSLR and moved the show to "Two Buffalo Studios" where he found Native Voice One (NV1) and The Native American Radio Network. Now 'Indigenous in Music' can be heard daily.

'Indigenous in Music' features music performed by Indigenous artists from the western hemisphere, a large feat motivated by the lack of exposure available to Indigenous musicians. "No one was playing our music in the mainstream music scene, and that's why 'Indigenous in Music' exists," said Knudsen.

With nation-wide carriage, Knudsen hopes to market his show to radio stations around the world; promoting Indigenous artists and providing music and interviews to the general public.

Knudsen has some advice for anyone looking to get involved in broadcasting. "It does take a lot of work. A two-hour show takes three of us to produce and about 10 hours to finish; all starting with picking out the music, artist research, doing the interview, editing and then uploading the final product up to three networks."

"The best advice I can offer is to find the right niche," said Knudsen. "Pick a catchy name and a community station that has an open time slot and is willing to let you shine your light. And hang in there! It has taken me 8 years to get where I am now."

You can find 'Indigenous in Music' on your local NV1 affiliate station. If not carried, ask your local station to begin carrying it. Listen live on NV1.org or download the NV1 app on iTunes and Google.
